

StudentLoanAdvice.com

StudentLoanAdvice.com, a White Coat Investor company, was created to help doctors, dentists, and other high earners tackle and defeat their student debt! Student loan debt is increasing at an alarming pace as tuition skyrockets across the nation – and it doesn't appear to be slowing down.

Student loan debt in the U.S. alone totals $1.71 Trillion! This outrageous figure barely trails mortgage debt in the U.S. This debt is held by 45,300,000 student borrowers, which means about 1 in 5 American adults are trying to figure out how to escape its grasp.

You don't need to go it alone anymore! Navigating complicated and ever-changing student loan programs when such large numbers are at stake is a daunting DIY project, to say the least. Our experienced team has advised on more than $650M in student debt. Schedule a consult to receive valuable advice needed to defeat your loans and forge a path to financial independence.

About Andrew Paulson

Hi, my name is Andrew Paulson and I am the Lead Student Loan Consultant and Co-Founder of StudentLoanAdvice.com. I have a Master of Accounting and have a love for business and finance. In addition, I have earned my Certified Student Loan Professional (CSLP) designation. I have a passion for helping people find solutions to complex financial problems and it is for this reason that I teamed up with The White Coat Investor to create StudentLoanAdvice.com.

I've met with more than 2,000 borrowers, mostly doctors, across the country on how to best manage their student loan debt. Personally, it was a great experience sitting down with my own wife years ago as we made a plan to pay off her nursing school debt. It may seem overwhelming at first, but my clients feel such relief when a solid, actionable plan is in place. You can do this! I sincerely look forward to meeting you and finding solutions to your unique challenges.
