

FACULTY, STAFF, AND STUDENT RELATIONS POLICY

The relationships between faculty, staff, residents, fellows, and students should demonstrate the highest standards of ethical conduct in all educational settings and be conducted without abuse, humiliation, harassment and exploitation of relationships for personal gain or advantage.

For information about inappropriate amorous relationships, residents and fellows may refer to the University of Connecticut's Policy Against Discrimination, Harassment, and Related Interpersonal Violence.

Residents and fellows may report concerns regarding discrimination, harassment and related interpersonal violence by contacting the Office for Inclusion and Civil Rights. Residents and fellows may also report concerns via any of the avenues outlined in the Reporting Concerns Policy for Medical Residents and Fellows.

Office for Inclusion and Civil Rights & Title IX Coordinator

UConn Health

16 Munson Road, 4th Floor

Farmington, CT 06030

Mail Code MC 5310

(860) 679-3563

equity@uconn.edu

www.equity.uconn.edu

www.titleix.uconn.edu

www.accessibility.uconn.edu

Retaliation against any individual who, in good faith, reports or participates in the reporting, investigation, or adjudication of Prohibited Conduct is strictly forbidden. Residents and fellows may refer to the University of Connecticut's Non-Retaliation Policy for more information.

Revised 8/17, 4/19, 10/25, 2/26

Reviewed 3/21, 2/23, 1/25