

Group on Women in Medicine and Science Luncheon Seminar

February 27, 2014 • 12:00-1:00 p.m.
Onyiuke Conference Room

Guest Speaker

Dr. Georgine Burke, Ph.D.

Associate Professor, University of Connecticut School of Medicine
Senior Director of Research, Connecticut Children's Medical Center

“Developing and Sustaining a Non-Traditional Research Program in an Academic Hospital”

Dr. Burke completed a PhD in medical anthropology at the University of Connecticut, followed by post doctoral work at the Hispanic Health Council in Hartford, CT. She has been with the Department of Pediatrics since 1991, first at Hartford Hospital and opening the Connecticut Children's Medical Center in 1996. Her research on the social epidemiology of birth outcome has been supported by grants from the Health Resources and Services Administration of DHHS and the Aetna Foundation. Her focus since 2000 has been on building research capacity at Connecticut Children's, including a four-fold growth in NIH dollars since 2007. Dr. Burke is a member of the Advisory Board of the Master in Clinical and Translational Science at the UConn Health Center and mentors junior faculty in research methods. Since 2006, she has served the U.S. Department of Commerce as an examiner for the Baldrige Performance Excellence Program (Malcolm Baldrige Award), conducting site visits for two awardees and numerous high performing organizations.
