

Physician-Scientist Career Development Colloquium
To Be A Physician-Scientist: The Good, The Bad
And The Amazing

Michael Rosenblum, MD, PhD

Assistant Professor of Dermatology
University of California, San Francisco

Dr. Rosenblum is a dermatologist and immunologist whose research concerns the means by which regulatory T cells (Tregs) control tissue immune responses. In 2014, Dr. Rosenblum was selected as one of the recipients of the prestigious NIH Director's New Innovator Award, reserved for the most exceptionally-promising young investigators in biomedical research. Dr. Rosenblum's talk will be preceded an informal reception in E-5036.
